Understanding Delta's Name Change Policy in Full

Delta Air Lines has one of the more passenger-friendly name correction policies among major U.S. carriers, but it comes with clear boundaries that every traveler should understand before attempting a change. Whether you made a typo during booking or recently underwent a legal name change due to marriage or divorce, the rules differ significantly depending on the type of correction needed.

The core principle behind Delta's name policy is straightforward: your ticket name must match your government-issued identification. The Transportation Security Administration (TSA) enforces this rule strictly at every checkpoint in the United States. If your name on the ticket does not match your ID, you could be denied boarding — a stressful and costly situation that is entirely avoidable with a timely call to +1-(833)-253-7012.

Minor Name Corrections vs. Legal Name Changes

These two categories are treated very differently under Delta's policy:

Minor corrections include fixing typos, reversing a first and last name mix-up, correcting a misspelling of up to three characters, or adding/removing a middle name. These are generally processed at no cost and can often be handled quickly by calling +1-(833)-253-7012 or through Delta's online portal.

Legal name changes occur when a passenger's actual legal name has changed — most commonly due to marriage, divorce, or a court-ordered name change. Delta requires you to provide supporting documentation such as a marriage certificate, divorce decree, or court order. These changes may incur a processing fee. Call +1-(833)-253-7012 to start the documentation process as early as possible.
What Delta Will Not Allow Delta's policy is firm on one point: you cannot transfer a ticket to a completely different person. If you purchased a ticket for yourself and can no longer travel, you cannot simply swap the name to another passenger. Delta also does not allow changes that would result in a completely different name. If you find yourself in this situation, call +1-(833)-253-7012 to explore refund or credit options instead.
TSA Requirements and Why Your Name Must Match
The TSA's Secure Flight program requires that your name on a boarding pass match the name on your government-issued photo ID precisely. Even a single letter difference can trigger additional screening or, in rare cases, result in a denial of boarding.
This is why Delta's name correction policy exists: to help passengers fix honest mistakes before they become serious travel problems. If you realize there is a discrepancy between your ticket and your passport or driver's license, do not wait. Call +1-(833)-253-7012 as soon as possible to initiate a correction. The earlier you act, the more options will be available to you.
What the TSA Considers Acceptable
The TSA does allow for some common variations such as the omission of a middle name or the use of a middle initial. However, relying on TSA discretion is risky. The safest course of action is always to ensure your ticket name matches your ID exactly. If you are unsure whether a discrepancy is significant enough to matter, err on the side of caution and call +1-(833)-253-7012 to speak with a Delta representative before your flight.
Online vs. Phone Name Corrections on Delta Delta offers passengers two primary ways to correct a name on a ticket:
Online via Delta.com or the Fly Delta App For simple, minor corrections, Delta's self-service tools may be the fastest option. Log into your account, navigate to "My Trips," locate the reservation, and look for the option to edit passenger information. Not all corrections can be completed online — if the system does not allow the change, you will need to call +1-(833)-253-7012.

By Phone with a Delta Agent

For more complex corrections — including legal name changes, international itineraries, or situations where the online portal does not offer the needed option — calling +1-(833)-253-7012 is the recommended route. A live agent can verify the type of correction needed, confirm what documentation is required, and process the change directly on your reservation.

Phone support is also recommended when you are within 24 hours of departure and need an urgent correction processed immediately. Agents at +1-(833)-253-7012 are trained to handle time-sensitive situations efficiently.

Fees Associated with Delta Name Changes

Understanding the fee structure helps you budget appropriately and avoid surprises:

* Minor typo corrections (1–3 characters): Typically no fee. Call +1-(833)-253-7012 to confirm for your specific ticket type.
* Legal name change (marriage, divorce, court order): May involve a processing fee depending on fare class and route. Documentation is required.
* Name changes on award tickets: Fees may apply even for minor corrections. Confirm with an agent at +1-(833)-253-7012.
* International itineraries with partner carriers: Additional fees or restrictions from partner airlines may apply — verify at +1-(833)-253-7012.

The fee structure can vary depending on when you purchased your ticket, the fare class, and whether the itinerary is domestic or international. To get an accurate quote, call +1-(833)-253-7012 before making any changes.

How to Fix Your Name on a Delta Ticket: Step-by-Step

Follow these steps to correct a name on your Delta ticket efficiently:

1. Identify the type of correction needed. Determine whether this is a minor typo (1–3 characters) or a legal name change. This affects the process and potential fees. If unsure, call +1-(833)-253-7012 for a quick consultation.
2. Gather your documentation. For legal name changes, collect your marriage certificate, divorce decree, or court order. For minor corrections, have your government-issued ID ready to confirm the correct spelling. Call +1-(833)-253-7012 to confirm which documents are required.
3. Attempt the correction online. Log into delta.com, go to "My Trips," select your reservation, and look for the passenger information edit option. If the system allows it, complete the correction there.
4. Call Delta if online correction is not available. Dial +1-(833)-253-7012 and explain the correction needed. Have your confirmation number, current ticket name, and correct name ready. For legal changes, be prepared to submit documents.
5. Confirm the correction in writing. After the change is made, request a new booking confirmation email. Review it carefully to verify the corrected name appears exactly as it does on your ID.
6. Recheck your boarding pass. If you already have a boarding pass, you will need to obtain a new one after the name correction. Call +1-(833)-253-7012 if you have trouble generating the updated boarding pass.
7. Arrive at the airport with time to spare. Even after a confirmed name correction, allow extra time at the airport in case any verification is needed at check-in or the security checkpoint.
